COVER STORY

India Won Gold at 45th Chess Olympiad

The Indian chess team celebrated a historic victory at the 2024 FIDE Chess Olympiad by winning double gold in both the men's and women's categories.

- The International Chess Federation (FIDE) Chess Olympiad is a biennial chess tournament in which teams from countries worldwide compete against each other.
- Organized by FIDE, the governing body of chess, the Chess Olympiad is one of the most prestigious team events in the chess world.
- It includes both an open section and a women's section, and teams compete over several rounds in a Swiss-system format, where each player faces an opponent of comparable skill from another team.
- The event promotes international camaraderie and high-level competition, and it has become a major platform for showcasing top chess talent from across the globe.

Recently, Indian Chess men's and women's teams won the gold medals at the Chess Olympiad held in Budapest.

- The Indian men's team defeated Slovenia with a score of 3.5–0.5 in the 11th and final round of the 45th Chess Olympiad.
- Simultaneously, the Indian women's team dominated Azerbaijan, securing victory with a 3.5–0.5 margin.
- Prior to India, only China and the erstwhile Soviet Union had achieved the distinction of winning both men's and women's gold medals in the same edition of the Chess Olympiad.
 - The Indian men's team had previously secured two bronze medals, in the 2014 and 2022 editions of the tournament.
 - The Indian women's team had earned a bronze medal in the 2022 edition, which was held in Chennai.
 - Chess Olympiad: It is a biennial event in which teams representing nations of the world compete. [FIDE] organises the tournament and selects the host nation.
 - The first Olympiad was unofficial and was held in 1924.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

REVOLUTIONIZING INDIAN ARMY'S FUTURE COMBAT VEHICLES

India's Future Infantry Combat Vehicle (FICV) project is advancing with upcoming user trials. Designed to replace the BMP-2, this advanced armored vehicle aims to enhance mobility, firepower, and protection for the Indian Army. It will safely transport mechanized infantry, support dismounted operations, and engage enemy tanks. Performance assessments during trials may lead to full-scale production, strengthening India's land combat capabilities. The trials will assess its performance, following which it may enter full-scale production, positioning India to strengthen its land-based combat operations.

Key Features:

- Firepower: Manned turret with fire-and-forget ATGMs, 30mm automatic cannon, and remote-controlled weapon stations.
- Survivability: Active protection systems, laser warnings, and space for 11 soldiers.
- Development: Collaboration among top Indian companies, including AVNL, Mahindra Defence, and L&T.
- Technology Integration: The vehicle integrates a Future Combat System (FCS), providing a high level of automation and enhancing battlefield awareness. It can also traverse amphibious terrains, making it highly versatile for diverse missions.
- Domestic Development: The FICV project has brought together both public and private Indian defense giants such as AVNL, Mahindra Defence, L&T, and Tata Motors. These firms are developing prototypes to compete for large-scale production, ensuring an innovative and competitive development process.

Conclusion

The FICV project exemplifies India's push towards defense self-reliance, aiming to enhance battlefield effectiveness with world-class capabilities for the Indian Army. As trials approach, it's a pivotal step toward strengthening the nation's defense infrastructure.

ABOUT US

The Integrated SSB Virtuosos at CS Joint Services Academy (CSJSA) started on 04 July 2021 to guide Indian youth to become officers in the Armed Forces. At CSJSA, we mentor defense aspirants for excelling in the Services Selection Board (SSB) Testing procedure. Rooted in the ancient tradition of Manasa-Vacha-Karmana, our philosophy emphasizes aligning mind, speech, and actions for a balanced personality. We mentor students to achieve harmony in their mind, speech, and actions, believing this balance is crucial for success, including in the SSB. Our motto is to support and encourage students as a community, not just provide services. Our sessions focus on psychological aspects and the genesis of assessment at the Services Selection Board, aiming to enhance self-improvement methods. CSJSA strives to carve a niche so every young aspiring student can fulfill their dream of serving as an officer in the Armed Forces.
